

Christian Philosophy of Education

- The primary goals of Christian education are salvation and discipleship for the next generation.
- Christian education is based on God's Word as absolute truth.
- Jesus Christ is at the center of the entire educational process.
- Christian education leads students to true wisdom and understanding by connecting all knowledge to a biblical worldview.
- Christian education results in the formation of a worldview or belief system patterned after the worldview of the teachers God has placed in students' lives.
- Parents have the primary responsibility to educate their children.
